

THE COSMETIC PHYSICIAN

TERMS & CONDITIONS

These Terms & Conditions (T&Cs) apply to the Cosmetic Physicians' College of Australasia's (CPCA) online journal publication "The Cosmetic Physician".

USE OF MATERIAL

1. All materials published within The Cosmetic Physician, including articles, Letters to the Editor, and advertisements are the intellectual property of the original author and/or the Cosmetic Physicians' College of Australasia (CPCA) and are subject to copyright protection. All such materials are protected by the Copyright Act 1968 and other international copyright and intellectual property laws.
2. Access to view content published within The Cosmetic Physician is free and open to all members of the public.
3. Citations of content published within The Cosmetic Physician must be appropriately referenced including reference to the original Author and the source of publication being The Cosmetic Physician.
4. Reproduction of articles from The Cosmetic Physician is not authorised without prior consent from the Editor. Applications for authorised reproduction of articles from The Cosmetic Physician can be made in writing to the Editor via email to cPCA@cPCA.net.au.

ARTICLES, LETTERS TO THE EDITOR, AND ADVERTISEMENTS

5. Views expressed in any article, Letter to the Editor, or advertisement published within The Cosmetic Physician are the original Author(s) and do not represent the views of the Cosmetic Physicians College of Australasia (CPCA).
6. The CPCA cannot accept liability for advice given or views expressed by any Author published within The Cosmetic Physician.
7. All submissions of material to The Cosmetic Physician, or the Editor, may be published in future issues of The Cosmetic Physician, unless consent to publish has been specified as "withheld" by the Author at the time of submission.
8. References and disclosures applicable to any article, Letter to the Editor, or advertisement published within The Cosmetic Physician are the sole responsibility of the Author(s) and must be included at time of submission.

PRIVACY

9. The CPCA will collect, store, and handle personal information about Authors of submitted materials (including full name, organisation, state, and email) in accordance with The CPCA's privacy policy: <https://cPCA.net.au/privacy-policy/>, the Privacy Act 1988 and Australian Privacy Principles (APP).
10. Personal information collected from Authors may be used for the purposes for which it is being collected including:

1. preparing content for The Cosmetic Physician;
 2. publication within The Cosmetic Physician;
 3. advertisement of The Cosmetic Physician;
 4. to provide services in connection with The Cosmetic Physician;
 5. processing and managing publication and associated administration, including correspondence; and
 6. analysis of submission and readership statistics for evaluation purposes.
11. Personal information may also be kept on file by the Cosmetic Physicians College of Australasia (CPCA) and provided to the CPCA's related entities, business partners, agencies, sponsors and other third parties for marketing purposes and to enable dissemination about forthcoming conferences, events and other related goods and services. You may be contacted by email, SMS/MMS, mail, social media, and telephone. Please advise the CPCA during the submission process (or at any later time) if you do not consent to your details being kept for such purposes by calling 08 9300 2414 or emailing cPCA@cPCA.net.au.

SUBMISSION OF MATERIALS (including manuscripts, Letters to the Editor, and Advertising Materials)

12. The Editor reserves the right to refuse any application to publish material within The Cosmetic Physician. The Editor's decision is final and not subject to challenge. The Editor is not required to provide reasons for refusal of an application.
13. All materials submitted to The Cosmetic Physician, or the Editor, must include any and all applicable references and disclosures at the time of submission.
14. Disclosures should indicate whether the material is supported or sponsored by any person, company, or organisation, whether you consult, advise for, or are a KOL for the entity, and whether you are receiving any financial gain or payment for the material.
15. Materials submitted for publication must be referenced in the Vancouver referencing style.
16. Any intent to withhold consent to publish materials submitted to The Cosmetic Physician, or the Editor, must be clearly stated at the time of submission.
17. Any individual or organisation are permitted to submit multiple materials for consideration by the Editor.
18. Authors of material approved for publication will be notified by email prior to publication.
19. The Editor withholds the right to request evidence of professional and educational experience of Authors prior to the publication of materials received.
20. Materials may be submitted for consideration to publish by the Editor via the upload facility available on <https://cPCA.net.au/the-cosmetic-physician-journal/>, or via email to cPCA@cPCA.net.au. The Editor holds the right to approve or decline any materials for publication within The Cosmetic Physician.
21. By submitting material to The Cosmetic Physician, or the Editor, you accept and agree to these terms and conditions.